Training Day 1 Report:

Topic Covered: Company Overview, Internship Rules & Slack Usage

On the first day of my training, I was given a general introduction to the company and its working environment. The session focused on providing a basic understanding of the organization and how interns are expected to adapt to a professional work setting.

After that, internship rules and guidelines were explained. I was informed about general workplace discipline, professional behavior, and the importance of maintaining proper conduct during the internship period. Emphasis was also placed on punctuality and following organizational guidelines.

I was also informed about the use of Slack as the official communication platform. It was explained that all internship-related information and updates would be shared through Slack.

Overall, the first day was informative and helped me understand the basic structure of the organization, the communication process, and the expectations from interns during the training.
